How businesses can bring it together.

Smart business owners know they don't have all the answers. And by not having all the answers, you lose your edge. The Business2Business Networking Group is a group of business professionals who can help. From an attorney, to a commercial realtor, to a CPA firm, to a banker, to a graphic designer, to a website copywriter, to an office furniture expert, to many more. You can see in more detail each individual business on our website. We look forward to hearing from you.

Success Story.

The Eden Prairie Business2Business Networking Group discovered that one good lead could spark a firestorm of business opportunities for the group. For example, while the office furniture/supplies member was helping a client, during the conversation, it was discovered that the company was also relocating. So our commercial realtor was called in, which led to our IT business person to handle the computer technology and logistics, then our Communications Specialist provided a new phone system, and our audio/visual expert installed a new audio/visual system, for a total of six members helping on one lead.
